NOW HIRING

Ergonomics Specialist
Industrial Hygiene Professional

Puget Sound Naval Shipyard and
Intermediate Maintenance Facility
1400 Farragut St. Bremerton, WA 98314

Summary

This is a public notice of an employment opportunity for an ergonomics specialist or industrial hygiene professional at the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard (PSNS) located in Bremerton, Washington.

Learn more about PSNS

Step into a vital role ensuring the health and safety of the skilled workforce that maintains, modernizes, and retires the U.S. Navy's fleet. At PSNS, we are committed to a world-class safety program implementing state-of-the-art safety and health management principles. You will be a key player in protecting our team from a complex range of workplace hazards by developing and managing our ergonomics program and applying industrial hygiene principles across the shipyard.

If you are qualified and interested in contributing to a robust safety and health management program collaborating with a department of approximately 120 environment, safety, and health professionals, we encourage you to apply.

- Make a Real Impact: Your work directly contributes to the well-being of thousands of employees and supports the critical mission of the U.S. Navy.

- Launch Your Career: This position offers a clear path for advancement. Start at a grade that matches your current qualifications (GS-5 to GS-12) and grow with us.

- Live and Work in the Pacific Northwest: Located in Bremerton, you'll be surrounded by the natural beauty of Washington state, with easy access to Seattle and Tacoma metropolitan areas, the Olympic National Park, and endless outdoor recreation.

Duties and Responsibilities

- You will enhance and oversee implementation of an occupational ergonomics program to reduce risk of musculoskeletal injuries and illnesses as a primary job duty.

- You will analyze accident and injury reports to discover trends and root causes to develop recommendations for reducing or eliminating ergonomic and related hazards.

- You will apply industrial hygiene principles to control occupational health hazards associated with shipyard industrial work operations.

- You will review and provide comments and technical guidance for a wide variety of local and higher authority instructions, procedures, standards, and regulations.

- You will act as the PSNS point of contact for matters concerning the ergonomics program.

- You will be responsible for anticipating, recognizing, evaluating, and providing control recommendations and guidance primarily for ergonomic related hazards and general industrial hygiene. Communications with affected stakeholders must be strategically developed to assure a wide-ranging target audience can readily understand and implement requirements and guidance.

Qualifications

Candidates may qualify under a variety of job series:

Industrial Hygienist

Occupational Safety and Health Specialist

Engineers

Salary

$56,715 to $130,786 annually

Salary depends on education, experience, and other qualifications.

The salary is based on the Federal Government General Schedule (GS) plus the locality pay adjustment for the Seattle-Tacoma area of Washington state. For more information see the following link: https://www.opm.gov/policy-data-oversight/pay-leave/salaries-wages/salary-tables/26Tables/html/SEA.aspx

Benefits

A career with the U.S. government provides employees with a comprehensive benefits package. As a federal employee, you and your family will have access to a range of benefits that are designed to make your federal career very rewarding. Professional development training to assist in attaining the knowledge, skills, and abilities in ergonomics and industrial hygiene may also be available.

Learn more about Navy Benefits.

Learn more about federal employee benefits.

How to Apply

Interested applicants must submit resumes and qualifying college transcripts* to both of the following:

Jeff Buckel
jeffrey.s.buckel.civ@us.navy.mil
(360) 517-3644

Cory Brickman
corwin.a.brickman.civ@us.navy.mil
(360) 535-2674

*Transcripts may be unofficial during the application period. Official transcripts must be provided if selected for a position and upon formal job offer.

PUGET SOUND NAVAL SHIPYARD, BUILDING ON A PROUD TRADITION FOR OVER 134 YEARS!